SACRAMENTS, Feb. 5 - Mr. Fendleton's bill to provide for the holding a Southern California State fair at Los Angeles, was strongly opposed today before the Assembly Computer. over, submit a minority report favorable to the passage of the biil, and the question will be settled on the floor of the Assem bly. The majority of the Committee on Agriculture opposed the measure from an ulture opposed the measure from an mical standpoint, arguing that it would be unwise to appropriate money for such a State fair until the heavy expense of the numerous district fairs should be stopped. The plan to abolish the district fairs, and to center the appropriations in two, three or four big State fairs is meeting with strong opposition. A largely-signed petition from Orange county against such legislation was read before the Committee on Agriculture this afternoon The Assembly Committee on Retrenchment also had the fair question under sration. After a long discussion it was agreed to report favorably Timothy Guy Phelps's bill repealing the act under which the various district agricultural associations were created, and authorizing the formation of county fair associations. The Phelps bill authorizes boards of supervisors, if they shall deem it advisable, to The Phelips bill authorizes boards of supervisors, if they shall deem it advisable, to appropriate for fair purposes 1 per cent of the taxes collected by the county. Mr. Reid of Trinity and Tehama and Mr. Wade of Napa gave notice that they would present a minority report against the passage of the bill. Wade declared that he was willing to cut off all State appropriations for fairs, but that he was opposed to allowing Sacramento county $20,000 a year for a State fair and denying all other sections of the State any aid whatever. Mr. Reid expressed a willingness to cut all the anexpressed a willingness to cut all the ap-propriations one-third, but insisted on maintaining the district fairs.

Young Robbers Caught.

WALNUT CREEK (Cal.) Feb. 5.—The two masked men who recently held up the station agent at the point of a shotgun and secured $50 from the safe, have been captured. They are Eddie Jones, an eighteen-year-old boy of Walnut Creek, and George Nottingham, also of this place. Jones was arrested here, and Nottingham was caught in Oakland. Jones has made a confession implicting Nottingham. The latter is 25 years old and has worked on his parents' farm here. He was married last week to a young lady of Walnut Creek. Jones has always borne a good reputation and says that Nottingham induced him to engage in the robbery.

On November 10 the vessel went to Sausalito, where she took on a supply of fresh water. The fact that she was going on another hunting expedition made it unnecessary for the captain to give his destination. Official papers show she cleared November 23. Capt. CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 5.—The constitutional anniversary of this government was celebrated here today. All of the civic societies, headed by bands of music, marched through the principal streets and waited upon the President at the executive mansion. It was, in fact, a gaia day here. Lieut. Avis of the Seventh Regiment committed suicide last night at military headquarters. No cause is assigned for the deed. He was one of the most popular officers in the Mexican service.

Minister de Leon stated tonight to an Associated Press reporter that he was awaiting important letters from his courty, Guatemais, which, he thought would settle the controversy between Mexico and Guatemais over the boundary question. His conversation was of a nature to lead one to the belief that he had given up the idea of war altogether.

BUSINESS RESUMED.

The party leaders were cheered on taking their seats. The various ministers gave notice that they would introduce on Thursday next the different bills mentioned in the Queen's speech.

Mr. Hobhouse, who wore court dress in moving the address in reply to the Queen's speech, congratulated the House on the fact that the policy of conciliation pursued the last three years toward ireland had produced the happy result of quietude there.

After Mr. Holland had seconded the address, Mr. Balfour, alluded in eulogistic terms to the late Lord Randolph Churchill, and then said that he would not refer to foreign affairs, as the opposition did not intend to embarrass the government in those matters by criticism uttered in public so long as the government proposed to take care of English interests.

Mr. Balfour wanted to know why the navy was not mentioned in the speech, and he objected to the suggestion that the improvement of affairs in Ireland was due to the conciliatory policy for the last three years. This improvement had been continuous for some years past, prior to the advent of John Morley. He ridiculed the programme of the government. The whole position of the government was so curious that he hoped that some authoritative members would move an amendment to the address so that the House could express its opinion on the subject.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt after paying a tribute to the memory of Lord Randolph Churchill, said in regard to the may, that the government intended to through the Foreign Office, confirms the first report that they went down with the Elbe in the North Sea.

Lieut. J. L. Walter of this city, who was a member of Capt. Brunson's company, was among the most ardent of those seeking information of the missing couple, and on Sunday last Mr. Walter, at the earnest solicitation of Brunson, sent a telegram to Kaiser Wilhelm Emperor of Germany, asking if Brunson and wife were on the Elbe, This morning an answer came through the Foreign Office giving the ages of the Brunsons on the Elbe, and the fact that they were from San Francisco, leaving no doubt that Capt, Brunson and his wife were drowned, ing a tribute to the memory of Lord Randolph Churchill, said in regard to the may, that the government intended to loyally carry out its policy as already announced. The government believed the permanency of tranquility in Ireland de-pended on a wise system of government. They would continue to pursue that great end, and would ishor to carry into effect a plan which should be satisfactory to the Irish people.

end, and would labor to carry into effect a plan which should be satisfactory to the Irish people.

Justin McCarthy said he believed the improving condition of Irishad was due to the Irish people, who now felt that they had strong friends in Great Britain, and had strong hope from the present government and from the people of Great Britain. He hoped that the government would consider that the time had come for the extending of amnesty to the Irish political prisoners. Some things had been done for isborers in Ireland, and there should be legislation in regard to Irish land which would tend to relieve the agricultural depression in Ireland when depression meant starvation.

Charles Howard Vincent, Conservative, moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech, declaring that steps should be taken to remove statutory or treaty obstacles to a customs union between the different parts of the empire.

Sidney Buxton replied in hebalf of the union between the different parts of the empire.

Sidney Buxton replied in behalf of the government. He said the Queen's speech at the closing of the last session of Parliament referred to the Ottawa conference, and therefore any further reference was considered needless on the present occasion, but the government had no intention to slight the colonies.

The government had given the matter attention and proposed to take action on one point during the present session. Action on the other point would follow. He agreed that the Australian, like otherself-ruiting colonies, should be allowed to enter into fiscal arrangements with one another. In view of the statement made by Mr. Buxton, Mr. Vincent withdrew his amendment.

Lord Roschery said the roccurrence.

Suit Dismissed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—The suit of John A. Barcley of London against Henry Miller, of Miller & Lux, the cattle kings, was dismissed in the United States Circuit Court today for want of prosecution. The suit was a very important one, as it involved the title to a large tract of land in Southern California. When the suit was filed Henry Miller and others were charged with all sorts of frauds, but it looks as if things had been settled up, as Barclay did not make any effort to press the suit. Ar. Buxton, Mr. Vincent withdrew his amendment.

Lord Rosebery said the government was able to act in the Armenian matter with the cordial acquiescence of France, Russia and Italy. Events would show that these powers were able to watch the inquiry of the Turkish commission and ascertain the truth. If the inquiry into the allegations shows them to be true then it would not possibly leave the Armenian Christians in their present condition, or they would be subjects of reprisals. After some further discussion the House adopted the address in reply to the speech.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The World this NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The World this morning says that the mails from Ecuador bring news from a disturbance which may, before now, have developed into a full-fledged rebellion. The firm of Flint & Co. of this city, figure prominently in the row, and an investigation committee is probing to get all the facts. There is a movement to compel President Cordero to resign, and several members of the ring that has supported him are in hid-ing. Alarcon and Gomes, Commissioners of Police, were mobbed in their houses, and the former was nearly killed after he had shot three men dead and wounded eight others.

of Police, were mobbed in their houses, and the former was nearly killed after he had shot three men dead and wounded eight others.

Flint. & Co. early in last December, learned that the Chilean government wished to sell the war-vessel Esmeralda. The price asked was £22,000. Flint & Co. secured a refusal of the vessel, and then sent an agent to Japan to see what sort of a deal could be made. The Japanese government agreed to pay £330,000 for the warship, but when Chile learned that Flint & Co. proposed to send the Esmerida to Japan, they refused to sell on the ground that it would be a violation of the neutrality laws. The agent of Flint & Co. did not give up, however. He went to Ecuador and made a secret deal with President Cordero, and the political ring of which he is a member. Prominent among the ringsters are the Caamano brothers, the elder of whom is an ex-President, and the lesder of the ring.

The Flint agent arranged that Ecuador should buy the Esmeralda from Chile and turn her over to him to sell to Japan Ex-President Camanno was to receive half of the £30,000 profit. The deal was arranged early in December. Caamano telegraphed to the Consul from Ecuador resident in Valparaiso to buy the warship. The vessel was turned over to representatives of Ecuador. Then the vessel was taken to the Gellaparos Islands off the coast of Ecuador. There the flag of Japan was holsted, and the vessel started for the seat of war. It was two weeks before the deal became generally known, but then there was a general uprising of the people. There was a great outery against the Caamano brothers, and they fled and are still in hiding. The houses of Alarcon and Gomez, Commissioners of Police, were surrounded by a mob and set on fire. Gomez was protected by servants, but Alarcon opened fire upon the mob, killing three and wounding eight. His cartridges then gave out and the mob broke down his door and surrounded him. He was clubbed and beaten, and at last accounts was still in progress on January 18.

Wrothy.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Western passenges affairs have gone to the bad all at once, and are now in a worse muddle than they have been at any time during the past six weeks. The Union Pacific is the cause of the difficulty, and to say that the representatives of the other lines are weary of the manner in which that line acts is putting it very mild.

To begin with General Passenger Agent Lomax of the Union Pacific announced today that his line did not intend to open up the Oregon Short Line as was an-

Lomax of the Union Pacific announced today that his line did not intend to open up the Oregon Short Line as was announced on Saturday. It was first claimed that the resolution offered in the meeting by Mr. Lomax opening up the Oregon Short Line was misunderstood by all the other lines, and in reality the Union Pacific had no intention of opening up the line. The other lines intimated very positively that they had not misunderstood the resolution, and the Union Pacific then claimed that it had been entrapped, and in any event it would not open up the Oregon Short Line. This announcement sent matters back with a jerk to the original position, the boycott against the Union Pacific by the Rock Island and Burlington was again declared in force, and matters were worse than at the beginning, for everybody was full of wrath and signs of an agreement were far less numerous than symptoms of a fight. The Union Pacific then demanded the insertion of a rule in the rate sheet giving the impression that rates from Missouri Riverpoints to San Francisco and other California points were applicable only over its line. This was virtually asking the other transcontinental lines to admit that the Union Pacific was the only road between the Missouri River and California. The other lines lost no time in refusing this proposition, and there the matter rests for the present. The situation has been further complicated by the announcement of the Missouri Pacific that it will not become a member of the Western Trunk Committee until the Union Pacific has joined it.

for other purposes."

Mr. Springer opened the debate with a long statement concerning the conditions of the treasury. He produced figures to show that there would be an estimated surplus of $38,000,000 in revenues at the end of the present calendar year, but a deficiency at the end of the fiscal year ending June 30 of $26,000,000. The deficiency was now $34,000,000, but this would be reduced $14,000,000 in the coming five months. On June 30, 1896, he said there would be in the treasury $35,000,000 of surplus revenue. While Mr. Springer was discussing the dwindling of the gold reserve and the enormous outstanding gold obligations of the government, he was interrupted by Mr. Simpson of Kansas, who asked if the Secretary of the Treasury was compelled to redeem legal tenders in gold. He replied he was so compelled by the President's former secretaries, who, in bad faith, had repudiated the established policy of the government. In conclusion he appealed to members to lay aside party preferences and, as patriots, to save the country's credit. Mr. Cox of Tennessee in opposition to the bill followed Mr. Springer.

Mr. Cox made a wigorous argument in in opposition to the bill tollowed and Springer.

Mr. Cox made a vigorous argument in favor of the substitute he should offer, which was based on the principle of the Cartisle bill.

Cartisle bill.

Mr. Hall (Dem.) of Missouri, said he deprecated the further washing of "dirty Winen" on the floor of the House.

Mr. Reed, the leader of the minority, then took the floor. He was given close attentions.

Mr. Reed, the leader of the minority, then took the floor. He was given close attention.

This bill, he began, might exhibit the science of statesmankip, but it did not exhibit the art thereof. In order to accomplish anything it was necessary that a bill should pass both houses and be signed by the President. What was wanted was a practical measure that would remedy the evil that has produced this orisis in our national affairs.

"In my judgment, if the President, when he became convinced that an effort was being made to drain the treasury of its gold, had amounced his purpose of maintaining the reserve at $100,000,000, the limit set by Conrad Jordan, a Democratic Treasurer, and had followed that announcement with vigorous measures, there would have been no difficulty. If the party in power had provided sufficient revenue there would have been no trouble."

To find a remedy it was necessary to know the condition. There were $496,000,000 outstanding of our obligations subject to redemption. For a country like this that was an insignificant sum—a sum not worth talking about when the question of the government's ability to pay and pay it promptly was raised. Therefore, something must have been done to create distrust. The first and the main thing that was done was the passage of a financial measure, which has already resulted in a deficiency of $107,000,000, and which, from present indications, would create a further deficiency, permanent or temporary. The treasury was divided into two sharp divisions. It was engaged in business. The business end of the concern was running astern, as he had pointed out. Now the conductors of the treasury had allowed the business end of interfere with the banking department. Discarding the wisdom of those who have insisted in discarding the revenues and borrowing money to meet the dedictency in that department, it has taken from the banking department, it has taken from the banking department in our still the was in the partient of the partient of the partient of the partient of th to meet the desiciency in that department, it has taken from the banking department funds to supply the desiciency in the business department. There was set in operation the endless chain by which we were furnishing gold for the rest of the world. The President had appealed, not only to his party associates, but to the opposition for aid. "There can be no legislation," he added, "on the eve of an expiring Congress." "We well know," said he, "that if this bill passes the House it will go no further. But it does seem to me that a practical measure could be presented." He said that those in control of public affairs would have command of the revenue question for the next two years. The Secretary of the Treasury had just reported to the Senate that he would have a surplus of $22,000,000. The Secretary had given the last dollar of this surplus, omitting, however, the cents as otherwise some question might have been raised as to the accuracy of this surplus, one thing to do was to use it, and instead of long-time gold bonds, issue certificates to be redeemable at any time."

Section 1 of Mr. Reed's bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue sumption act.

It is substantially similar to Mr. Sher-It is substantially similar to Mr. Sherman's bill introduced in the Senate.

Mr. Walker (Rep.) of Massachusetts also opposed the measure. He was very sarcastic at times. The government had already been forced to issue $100,000,000 of bonds which were denominated "Grovers." Shortly $100,000,000 more "Grovers," and the next step would be the issue of $500,000,000 "Grovers."

Mr. Simpson (Pop.) of Kansas said, in the beginning of his speech, that he could add no hilarity to this "funereal occasion." He characterized the new bill as a complete surrender of the Democratic party to the banking interest.

Mr. Pence (Pop.) of Colorado marveled that such a measure as the pending bill should emanate from a Democratic committee at the dictation of a Democratic should emanate from a Democratic committee at the dictation of a Democratic President, and he expressed for himself and his party a willingness to co-operate for the passage of some relief measure.

Mr. McKeighan (Pop.) of Nebraska followed in the same line, creating some amusement by calling Mr. Springer the "artful dodger of the situation."

The committee then rose, and the House, at 4:45 p.m., adjourned until tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

Debs Conspiracy Cases.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Four defendants in the Debs conspiracy trial were discharged by Judge Grosscup today, Dennis Larkin, Frank Dreyer, James MacDonald and John Burke. The court reserved its decision as to John F. McVean and John J. Hannahan, directors of the A.R.U. Regarding the other eleven defendants, including Debs, the Judge simply said to the attorneys for the defense: "You may go ahead with your side of the case."

The defense opened by calling President Thomas of the Western Indiana road. He was asked about the proceedings of the General Managers' Association. He produced reports, but requested they be not made public. The defense attempted to prove by Thomas's testimony that. an agreement existed previous to and during the strike between the General Managers' Association and the Pullman Company, but he denied this. SACRAMENTO, Feb. 5.-J. M. Kinsmer, SACRAMENTO, Feb. 5.—J. M. Kinsmer, the man arrested in San Francisco by Wells-Fargo officers, was a railroad striker and afterward started a milk ranch over in Yolo county. It is said he had plenty of money since the train subbery less Out. of money since the train robbery last Octo-ber, and has been under surveillance. He and his wife had a falling-out lately, and and his wife had a falling-out lately, and she went home to her father, Capt. Mendez, of this city. Kinsmer abused her, and it is said she had made threats of gecting him into trouble about money. Lately he sold out his dairy and went to San Francisco. Mrs. Kinsmer's mother was seen today and all she would say was that Kinsmer had abused her daughter shamefully. The latter could not be seen.

The railroad officials here say they know nothing about Kinsmer's arrest.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5, 1895.
When the various proposed amendments to the State Constitution were being discussed furing the recent campaign. The Times criticised that one which gives the that the thing has been done, people seem to be arousing to the realization of the fact that it was a very unwise move. Letters which have appeared recently on the subject in The Times represent the almost unanimous opinion of those who are in a position to judge of the probable effects of this law, should it be enforced. That it will tend to increase the rate charge for loans of money on real estate in this section there can be no doubt. Quite a large amount of English money is loaned in Southern California, either directly or indirectly. As The Times has mentioned, preparations were being made lands, it is not reasonable to suppose that they will be willing to lend money on mortgage, because in case they should be forced to foreclose their mortgages they would not be permitted to take possession of the land.

would not be permitted to take possession of the land.

It is true that in some parts of the United States British landowners have obtained possession of large tracts of land, the aggregate area of which is very great, and that they have introduced a system of renting, which is un-American and undesirable. There is, however, little danger of the introduction of such a system in this country, where twenty acres is a good-sized homestead, and where the expenditure of very large sums of money is necessary to develop water and make the land salable. In any case, it would be an easy matter for the Legislature to provide against such a contingency without going so far as to prohibit altogether the foreign ownership of land.

One of the branches of industry that One of the branches of industry that have been much neglected in Southern California is the packing and preserving of fish for shipment. It is a well-known fact that the waters of the Pacific in this section abound with valuable food fish, but so far very little effort has been made to utilize them. A short time ago a fish cannery was built at Terminal Island, and has been doing well, but this sonly like a drop in the bucket. There is no reason why the fisheries on the Pacific Coast should not become as important as those on the Atlantic. As in the case of horticulture, we have the great advantage on this Coast that work can be carried on with facility all the year round. One of the most valuable fish that is known to the world as the sardine, the capture and preparation for market of

One of the most valuable fish that is known to the world as the sardine, the capture and preparation for market of which employes an army of people in Europe. Sardines are plentiful off the coast of Southern California. They are not exactly identical with sardines of the Mediterranean, but so nearly alike that it takes a naturalist to tell the difference. At any rate, they are away ahead of the small herrings that are put up in Maine under the name of sardines. The fish canning factory above referred to has put up some sardines of excellent quality.

The preparation of sardines is not a very intricate process. The fish goes first to the cleaning tables, where the head and entralis are removed. In pleasant weather they are then dried in the open air, being placed upon screen trays for the purpose. When thoroughly dry they are fried in oil, and then put into cans and soldered up airtight. After this they are thoroughly cooked, the process also affording a test of the quality of packing. This treatment prepares the sardines for market. If the weather is unfavorable steam drying takes the place of the open air. The fish must be free from water when they take their first dip into the oil.

Modern appliances are everywhere in the cannery. Division of labor gives each can a considerable circuit of travel, from street to completed can, but in the aggregate it takes but a small fraction of a minute to make a can. Nothing is left to chance, and as little as possible to muscular exertion.

The market for these goods is limitless.

to chance, and as little as possible to mus-cular exertion.

The market for these goods is limitless.
Wherever canned fish are in demand the California product can be marketed, and the life of a well-made package is as long as that of the tin surrounding it. The opportunity for extending the business, too, is without boundaries, for the per-manent keeping qualities of the output removes the ordinary limitations sur-rounding food products.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS

While not much has been heard during the past few weeks in regard to the oil industry ,the development of petroleum in this section goes on steadily. As already announced, the Terminal Rallway has introduced off on one locomotive, and will soon use it entirely. It is said that oil has been struck in a limited quantity the northern part of the city, at a depth of about 700 feet. Some complaint has been made of the fumes that arise from a business block on Spring street, which uses petroleum for fuel, and it is suggested that a smoke-consuming ordinance, such as they have in some Eastern cities, should as they have in some Eastern cities, should be enforced here.

The wide extent of the oil fields in Southern California is well shown by the remarkable developments, in the Summersand district of Santa Barbara county, as reported in the correspondence of The Times. It is a fact that if the oil developments of the past twelve mouths had been made in Pennsylvania there would have been great excitement, but the people of Southern California do not appear yet to have half realized the magnitude of the wealth which fies underground in this section. With Sespe, Newhali, Summerland, Puente and the Second-street Park fields as starters, it is not too much to expect that Southern California may, before many years, take first place among the oil-producing sections of the United States. Nature has certainly been very kind to this section.

A short time ago there was formed in Los Angeles a useful association known as the Engineers' and Architects' Association, the object being to bring members of these professions in closer touch with each other and to discuss matters of interest which come within their professions. At the monthly meeting of the association on Wednesday dast, Optavus Morgan, architect, read an interesting and thoughtful paper on timber, its use, Eta and decay, which led to a very lively discussion, participated in by Measrs. Warren, Dockweller, Benton and Hawgood. The next paper was by Mr. Stanton, on the "Cliff Dwellers," a comprehensive and interesting paper which opened up many new ideas in regard to this wonderful people. It was unanimously decided that, at the next meeting, papers on "Harbors" should be read and discussed. Among the engineers of this city are men of high attainments, and it is somewhat remarkable that these gentlemen have never been requested to give their views on the much-talked-of harbor question. The Excussion of the subject by them as likely to prove a more than usually interesting one. It will receive attention from The Times. A short time ago there was formed in ixty feet on Broadway, adjoining the Wilson Block, between Fourth and Fifth, for

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Shares and Money.

Associated Press Leased-wire Services

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—As a result of today's trading on the Stock Exchange a majority of the shares dealt in show declines ranging from % to 2% per cent., the heaviest loss being in Cordage guaranteed. There was no special activity in the market tany time, but the speculation became utterly stagnant in the half hour immediately preceding and following delivery hour. In the early dealings London was quite a good buyer, although cable advices reported the market for American securities in London rather unsettled, owing to a feeling of uncertainty as to the issue of the expected United States government loan. At the opening there were fractional recessions in the general list, and with very few exceptions prices immediately for the services of the specular thanese were fareations. Were principally influenced by the higher prices in the other markets and fluctuations were principally influenced by the higher prices in the other markets. A fair business was transacted. There were not many more costs offered in the cash market than could be easily consumed and it the strength was the principal feature here and extended to the specular crowd. May sold from 28% to 29 and closed at 28 7-8@29.

The provision market was firm but dull. The receipts of only 19,000 hogs, instead of 25,000 as estimated, gave the market and the very leave not many more costs offered in the cash when the could be easily consumed and it have received and risk extensive was firm but dull. CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—May wheat, which closed yesterday with sellers at 52%, was wanted at the opening this morning at from 53 to 53 1-8. It rose to 53%@3-8, but could get no higher for an hour. Later, after selling down again to 53 1-8, it advanced to 53%@5-8, and after an-Later, after selling down again to 53 1-8, it advanced to 53½65-8, and after another stight reaction it rose to 53 5-8 and was bringing the latter price about 1:30 o'clock. The Chicago receipts were 23 cars, against 141 a year ago, and Minneapolis and Duluth together reported 195 cars, compared with 333 last year. A most significant feature of the receipts at winter wheat points was that not a bushel was received at St. Louis and shipments from there were only 94,000 bushels. The export clearances from Atlantic ports comprised 205,000 bushels in wheat and the equivalent of 115,000 bushels in the shape of flour. The figures of the domestic movement were favorable to holders. The foreign orders to buy were, however, the most potent agents of the strength displayed. New York reported acceptances of cable offers made yesterday and fresh bids at 1c per bushel advance over Saturday. Parls quoted a moderate advance in remote futures of flour with wheat unchanged. Firm with upward tendency was the general tenor of advices from Liverpool. The buying here was fair and May closed at 53½c.

The corn market started without any business in either direction. It soon, however, began to develop considerable eirength and in the end led the advance in the grain markets. The cash demand was good both by local customers, warehousemen and shippers. Receipts today were 209 cars, and tomorrow's estimates are only 100. May sold at the opening at 42.7-8 sparingly, but more freely at 43. It worked steadily upward to 44 and closed there.

LABOR AND LAW.

The Times is in receipt of a some correspondent, who seeks to show that the slave system which existed in the South prior to the war was more equitable toward the slaves than is the present industrial system toward the wage-earner. He takes the Pullman affair as the basis of his plea and advances the idea that the law should prohibit reductions of wages

It is a waste of words to discuss propositions so nonsensical as this correspondent advances. It is not the province of the law to fix the scale of wages in any industry. An attempt alike to employers and employed, and would be incompatible with personal freedom and our republican system

An employee is as much protected by law as is his employer. The one is at not to his liking. The other has an undoubted right to employ labor at as

The laborer has the same right namely, to exact, by lawful means only, the highest wage that it is possible to secure in any line of industry; and,

failing to secure a satisfactory wage,

he has the right to decline the employ ment; but he has no right to interfere with any other laborer who wishes to work upon terms agreeable to himself

There is no compulsion-or should be none—on either side. But the strikes and boycotts which have been so conspicuous a feature of the in-dustrial history of the past few years have seriously injured the cause of labor, by making capital reluctant to embark in labor-employment enter prises, thus greatly reducing the ag gregate amount of labor to be per formed, and increasing the competi-

it. This competition, as any tyro in stand, has tended strongly toward re ductions in the rates of wages paid. In the case of the Pullman Company, had it reduced the rate of wages below the price at which it could ob soon have been compelled to go out of business or raise the rate. It is the inexorable law of supply and demand

It would be as reasonable for the law to compel a laborer to accept less than the market price or competitive price of his labor, as it would be for the law to compel an employer to pay more than the market price. For the law to attempt either form of compulsion an unwarrantable invasion of indi-

The Democratic party, in its pres

WOMAN SUFFRAGE. A woman-suffrage bill is now up for sion in Sacramento, and there is said to be some prospect that it may

So much has been written and said on the subject of woman suffrage in the United States during the past few years that some people may entertain the impression that it is a question in which a large proportion of the other sex are deeply interested. This we eve to be a fallacy. As in the case of some beetles and other insects, the good people of the other sex who want to vote is altogether out of proportion to their size, or nume We doubt very much whether 10 per cent. of the women of the United States really care to vote on political matters. Of the remain not a few are strongly opposed to the movement. Nor can it be said cent, are representative women. That is to say, they do not represent the great mass of American women, who are wives and mothers or who expect some day to be so. A great many them having failed to marry man, have wedded an idea, with they are undoubtedly very much in love. That these women have brains cannot be denied-in fact, it may be admitted that they have more than the average amount of brains which falls to the lot of their sex; but what they have in brains and energy they too often lack in judg-to see in the adoption of woman suffrage a remedy for all political and social ills with which the body politic is afflicted. We much fear they are greatly mistaken in supposing that the granting of the franchise to women would effect such a reform. They seen to forget that it is not only the good women who would have a right to vote, but all kinds of women-good, bad and indifferent. There would be quite a proportion of women whose votes could be counted upon by those who make a business of dealing in merchandise, and these votes would counteract the votes of the earreformers in the same manner that the votes of loafers, who sell them for a couple of dollars on election day, kill the votes of men who, perhaps, devote a large part of their time to the good of their city, county, State and country. On the hand, experience teaches us that there would be a very large number of women who would not take the trouble vote at all, while a great many would simply vote as their husbands wished them to, so that altogether the net result of dragging women into politics, as far as political reform goes, would be little or nothing.

Even granting that some slight reform might be effected in this manwould it not be dearly purchased at the price of plunging our wives, ers and daughters into the heated nious and too often filthy pool of politics? We know the claim that, if women take up political matters, they will cleanse them. Possibly. A woman sometimes marries : succeed, although she sometimes herself in the attempt.

Having repeated its matured views on this question, The Times again exies the opinion that, when the great body of American women shall have squarely declared themselves as to exercise the franchise, they will be given the opportunity.

With unsound principles as its basis of political faith, and incompetent eaders as its exemplars, the Democ-acy is indeed in a very bad way, the Democracy, has cost the people of this nation hundreds of millions of dollars in deficient revenues and unnecessary interest paid to money-lend-ers. Have not the people had about enough of that sort of "statesman-

Assemblyman Hatfield has intro duced a resolution to amend the con stitutional amendment recently adopted with respect to the holding of real estate by allens. Mr. Hatfield's amendment proposes to allow the holding of real estate by bona fide who are eligible to become such. Some modification of the sweeping provisions of the amendment ad at the last election is needed. Mr. Hatfield's resolution appears to be a step in the right direction. But why embody all these details in the Constitution? That instrument is already too cumbersome and voluminous. The Constitution should be an epitome of the fundamental law, and to the Legislature should be intrusted the work of supplying details by statute.

Advices just received from Valencia, Spain, are to the effect that a cold wave swept over that district on Monday night, destroying 60 per cent. of the orange crop. Since the Florida freeze, which destroyed a large part of the crop in that State, Valencia or anges have been in active demand in the Eastern markets. Now that the Valencia crop has been ruined, the market for California oranges will be greatly strengthened. We do not each this conclusion in a spirit of re folding, but state the fact because it

Perhaps labor has encountered no nore conscienceless enemy this season than Jack Frost-at least in some por tions of the country. It is now estimated that the value of the oranges ruined by the freeze in Florida, on the 28th and 29th of December last, is not less than $3,000,000. It is a heavy blow to the orange-growers of that section, and the sufferers should have the sincerest sympathy of California, even while we profit by their

A Pleasant Picture of the Domestic

Life of the Autocrat.

Mrs. Annie Fields, the widow of the well-known Boston publisher, contributes a sketch of Dr. Holmes to the Century for February. After quoting some characteristic letters of the autocrat, hitherto unpublished, Mrs. Fields writes:

The removal from Montgomery Place, where he had lived some years, to Charles street, was a matter of great concern. He says in the "Autocrat" that "he had no idea until he pulled up his domestic establishment what an enormous quantity of roots he had been making during the years he had been planted there." Before announcing his intention, he came early one morning, with his friend Lothrop Motley, to inspect our house, which was similar to the one he thought of buying. I did not know his intention at the time, but I was delighted with his enthusiasm for the view over Charles River Bay, which in those days was wider and more beautiful than it ever can be again. Nothing would satisty him but to go to the attic, which he declared, if it were his, he should make his study.

Shortly after this, the doctor took possession of his new house, but characteristically made no picturesque study in which to live. He passed many long days and evenings, even in summer, in a lower room opening on the street, which wore the air of the office of a physician, and solaced his love for the picturesque by an occasional afternoon at his early home in Cambridge. They asked us to go there with them, as it was only a few steps from where we were. The professor when the same is a lower room opening on the afternoon had overtook Prof. Holmes" (he liked to be called "Professor" then, as it was only a few steps from where we were. The professor went to the small side door, and knocked with a fine brans knocker which had just been presented to hom from the old Hancook house. It was there also a pleture of the reverend doctor's first wife, fair, and perhaps a trife coquettish, or what the professor called 'a Rtite romantic;' the old chairs from France still th much headway until it has purged itself of a number of statesmen who make a specialty of disordered livers."

Well, the purging process will be pretty well advanced after the fourth of next month.

the Lord has given men that the Lord has given the diseases which the devil's vices bring on us," was the thought constantly in my mind as I stood the other day in the New York Hospital for the Ruptured and Crippled. Sufferers come to the hospital, where the deft-fingered physician straightens treats and bandages them.

It is very interesting to see a plaster-of-paris jacket "put on," the task being accomplished by the physician in charge, and Miss Lizzie Connor, who is the most skilled nurse in this department in the city. The first thing on the programme is to strip the patient to the waist, and sponge the body off carefully, when a gauze undervest is put on and drawn smooth. Then the head is fixed into a sort of basket of leather straps and buckles, which hangs from a pulley fastened to the ceiling. By means of this the crocked spine is relieved, of the weight of the head and brains, which is considerable, averaging from two to three pounds, and the spinal column is straightened as nearly as may be.

head and brains, which is considerable averaging from two to three pounds, and the spinal column is straightened as nearly as may be.

Next, pieces of double-faced canton flannel are cut in various shapes and sizes, and laid as pads over the protruding bones, hips, back, and ribs; at any place where there might be rubbing and consequent soreness. If there is already a sore or an abcess, a circular piece, with a hole cut to fit the sore is carefully laid around it. The neat rolls one sees in a box near by are made of strips of cheese-cloth, six yards long, varying in width from four to eight inches, thickly dusted over with dry plaster-of-paris, then carefully rolled ready for use. While nurse and surgeon have been busy preparing the patient several of these have been scaking in water.

Now, all is ready. The surgeon selzes one of these rolls, gives it a squeeze to remove superfluous water, unrolls a plece, lays it across the hips of the patient, and begins to wind it around and around, carefully smoothing all wrinkles and creases as he goes. If any fold has to be made, it is made where a pad is, that the crease may not mark the flesh. The nurse stands on one side, the surgeon on the other, and the roll of bandage is quickly passed back and forth. They begin at the hips, making the jacket thick and firm. After a layer has been put on all over the body, they put the bandage back and forth across the back and shoulders, where double strength is required; then another layer around and around. This is continued until for a grown person seven or eight rolls have been used. (For a child it takes but three.)

If the patient should, from wearliness or nervousness, materially change position, and a crease appear-in consequence, all the work is undone and a new jacket has to be begun. It dries almost immediately, not be removed, the patient is promoted to wearing one which hooks together down the front and can be taken off, thus giving a chance for bathing and rest.

I had a curious sense of being in a sculptor's studio as I stepped behind the screen, where the surgeon, in a long, stray linen smock, such as sculptors wear, was busy smoothing and modeling at the poor subject standing in much the position and exactly the drapery of the Venus of Milo. It is a nobler art to restore a poor, distorted frame to its divine uprightness, than to loose from its marble prison the fairest form that fancy ever dreamed.

Tventy-five Hours.

(W. T. Hornaday in February St. Nicholas:) Desiring to learn just how much tunneling a mole can do in a known number of hours, we caught a good large specimen, and immediately turned it loose in the middle of a five-acre field of clover. The grass was so thin and winter-killed that the ground was practically bare, but not loose like the soil of a cultivated field. Five seconds after the mole received his freedom, it had burrowed out of sight. This may seem past belief, but the fact is vouched for by the official time-keeper. Sticking a stake at the starting-point, we retired and left the digger hard at work.

The start was made at 11 a.m., and the Negroes Won on Their Merits.

When the chief of construction advertised for bids on the Negro Building at the Cotton States and International Exposition, to be held at Atlanta, Ga., he gave notice that only negro labor would be employed. The competition was open to all contractors, however, and bids were submitted by two white firms and one of colored men. The negroes underbid the white men by several hundred dollars, and they received the award.

This was a clean, clear-out issue between white and colored contractors, and the negroes won on their own merits. The chief of construction says the firm is perfectly competent to do the work, and has every confidence in its proper execution. This incident will act as a powerful stimulus to excite the interest of negroes in the negro exhibit. In some States they are thoroughly organized, and they will soon be at work for an exhibit in every Southern State. In Virginia there are fifty-six local organizations, each of which will give three entertainments between mow and June to raise money for the collection of exhibits. Similar organizations will be effected in all Southern States and this work will be in charge of commissioners chosen from among the leaders of the race. There is every prospect that the exhibit will be thorough for the whole of this wast territory, and the aggregate will be a revelation to the world.

Scare at the White House.

(Washington Correspondence Brooklyn Eagle:) One night this week, during the severe cold snap which visited this city, the magnificent and costly collection of domestic and imported orchids in the conservatory of the White House had a very narrow escape from freezing. At the height of the cold spell the steam boiler in the orchidhouse burst, and left the delicate plants without heat. The flowers are extremely sensitive to cold, and the danger to which they were exposed was immediately recognized by the attendants, who resorted to heroic measures in order to save them. The men were quickly called together, and rude charcoal fires started throughout the house, while a close watch was kept on the thermometers. With the aid of these and some gasoline stoves the hothouse was maintained at a normal temperature until the arrival of a new boiler from New York. The old boiler had been in use for about fourteen years, and was completely worn out. Superintendent Smith, who had charge of the White House plants, sald that not one of the orchids had been injured. Some of the plants in the conservatory are very valuable, several being valued at from $200 to $200 each.

lags of the drill-book, he had to consolidate the entire two regiments to get one four-company battalion. At Sacramento, during the strike, a force of 850 officers and men went to take the now historic depot. Of this number 213 were officers, and over 50 per cent. of these were staff officers. It was the story of the tail wagging the dog over again. With a less number of officers and men of better capacity, the Sacramento flasco would not, perhaps, have occurred.

Under such conditions the N.G.C. would be a pride to the citizens who support it, an efficient protection to the interests of the State and citizens who support it, an efficient protec-tion to the interests of the State, and a standing menace to that spirit which is abroad, and which tends in the direction of organized opposition to the laws of the country."

LETTERS TO THE TIMES. Gold Bonds-Reed's Bill.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—(To the Editor of The Times:) Reed's bill is all right. If we produce $30,000,000 of gold per annum and collect $100,000,000 of gold per annum, this $130,000,000 is all the gold we have to pay with. If our government should pass the Reed bill and thereby six the needle at the feed bill and thereby give the people a stable circula-ting medium, which it would do, we would have just as much gold to pay our foreign indebtedness as we had before, without this bull. If the government sells without time tool. It the government sense bonds for gold to get money to pay gold bonds, we do not reduce our indebtedness one single dollar; it is simply a renewal of the bonds. This is so plain that the wayfaring man, though a fool, need not ask for a further demonstration.

For about a mile it was secessary to eave in the place where factor for that ditch is diverted from the iver. The walking was difficult, as it was necessary to crawl more or less under verhanging boughs and brush, but there was no grumbling. The investigation made it apparent a great deal of work will have to be done in season. Most of the water for suplying the city with irrigation, it will be understood, is diverted from the Los Anceles River at a point on lands owned by dessurs. Pomeroy and Hooker, about seven niles above the city. This ditch, which a scarcely more than a trench in the arch, varied by an occasional fiume, follows a sinuous course which takes it on a light down grade along the base of the oothills skirting the vestern edge of the iver bed.

Christian Jansen et al. yesterday, an action to compel the specific performance of a contract, findings and judgment being ordered drawn in accordance with the following brief opinion:

"The plaintiff made a contract with Jason Brown to purchase a portion of the land in question for a certain price, and paid him thereon, as part of the purchase prite. $200. The defendants toaned plaintiff $100 of this money to enable him to make the $200 payment, for which plaintiff $100 of this money to enable him to make the $200 payment, for which $100 so loaned the plaintiff gave to defendant, Christian Jansen, his promissory note, dated October 13, 1889, and payable eighteen months from date, with interest at 5 per cent. Thereafter, on November 1, 1889, defendants purchased from Jason Brown the whole of said land, including the lands Brown thad contracted to sell to Fulton, the plaintiff, with a verbal understanding with plaintiff and Brown that defendants would perform with plaintiff the contract Brown had made with him. The price of the whole tract was $1200, and Brown accepted from defendants $1000, and gave defendants reedit for the $200 plaintiff thad paid him. Plaintiff did not enter into possession of the property. The Supreme Court has held that these facts do not entitle plaintiff to specific performance against defendants, but inthustes that they constitute a resulting trust in plaintiff's favor; that the plaintiff in effect paid $200 of the purchase price on defendant's purchase. This must have been $200 of the purchase price of the whole tract because there was no separate price for any portion of the tract. Following the opinion of the Supreme Court in this case, it appears that plaintiff has no rights as a purchaser, but instead a right which gives him, by virtue of his relation to the defendants, and 'growing out of the fact that in making such purchase they availed themselves of the money paid by plaintiff,' that out of this 'a new relation to the defendants, therefore, hold one-sixth of the land in trust for plaintiff. But the powers of a court of equity are not brought into exercise to enforce technical rights, but only such as in good conscience should be enforced. Good conscience requires that plaintiff, and an additional one-twelfth subject to the payment by plaintiff to defendant Christian Jamen, the $100 borrowed of him, and that the defendants should convey to him that proportion of the property corresponding to the proportion of the property orrespon to make the $200 payment, for which $100 so loaned the plaintiff gave to de-plaintiff forthwith one-twelfth undivided interest in the lands purchased by them from Brown, and an additional one-twelfth interest if plaintiff shall pay or tender payment of said note and interest in fifteen days; otherwise that defendants' interest in said additional one-twelfth of said estate be foreclosed."

the day's session, and from the pleadings, the facts in the case were gathered to be as follows:

Some time ago circulars were issued by the authorities of Toronto, Canada, offering a reward for the arrest of one William Garrison, a fugitive from justice who was "wanted" for murder. One of these, in the ordinary course of his business fell into the hands of Detective A. B. Lawson of this city, who, upon learning subsequently that such a person was living in this city under the assumed name of A. D. Garrison, proceeded to investigate. In June last this A. D. Garrison, the plaintiff, procured a Heense to wed Mrs. Christina Nellie Vilet, and was promptly arrested upon a charge of perjury, in that he swore that his name was "A. D." instead of William Garrison. He was subsequently taken before Justice Bartholomew in the Township Court, arraigned, and required to furnish bail in the sum of $750 cash, but, upon preliminary exemination, was discharged, it being shown that he was not the William Garrison he was supposed to be.

As in pursuance of the theory that he was a fugitive from justice, his arrest for perjury was merely a pretense upon which to hold him until the arrival of the Canadian officers, Garrison claims that Cline, as Sheriff, Lawson, as his deputy. Bartholomew, as sustice, and H. C. Dillon, as District Attorney, were all joined in a conspiracy against him for the sole purpose of obtaining the reward offered for the arrest of the fugitive, and he therefore sues them jointly and individually for damages.

A number of startling developments were made during the course of the trial.

THE WEISE ESTATE.

In the Profiste Court yesterday, Judge Clark was occupied with the trial of 'he contest over the admission to probate of the will of F. B. Weiss, deceased, who died on December 5 tast, leaving an estate valued at $25,000.

His three minor heirs, by their guardian ad litem, are contesting the will, by the terms of which all of the decedent's estate, except the nominal sum of $10 for each child, is bequeathed to his widow, upon the ground of undue influence.

The matter was not concluded, and will be taken up again this morning.

Suits for divorce upon sundry statutory grounds have been commenced by Cora Jones against Herbert E. Jones; by Fanny Kasson against Frank Kasson, and by

G. Cohen, who recently applied to the Board of Supervisors for a commutation of sentence, after serving seventy-five of his ninety days' term in the County Jail, but was refused, made another attempt yesterday through the medium of habeas corpus proceedings, but was remanded by Judge Smith and his petition denied.

The trial of the case of R. H. Shoemaker, Jr., vs. David D. Acker, an action for damages for an alleged breach of contract, was concluded in Department Three yesterday, and is in the hands of the jury.

Mark Gorman, an old soldier who imagines that he is Governor of the State of Massachusetts, was taken before Judge York and Commissioners Mathis and Merrill yesterday morning for examination as to his mental condition, and was committed to the County Hospital for a week.

Almon Wood, an Englishman, was duly admitted to citizenship by Judge Clark yesterday upon producing the necessary proof of qualification, and Judge Shaw performed a like service for William J. Seaman, another Britisher.

Judge Shaw, yesterday morning; granted the petition of the plaintiff in the case of J. L. Tucker, trustee, vs. A. S. Robbjus, to compromise the matter for $475, each side to pay its own costs, and upon payment of said sum en open court the action was dismissed.

The Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors was in session

The Board of Supervisors was in session all day yesterday, but the time and attention of the members was almost entirely devoted to the task of auditing the demands and claims against the county for the month of January last.

Under a suspension of the rules, however, the following officers were appointed: County physician, D. C. Barber, M.D.; superintendent County Farm, E. L. Burdick, M.D.; county inspector of stock, Ward B. Rowland, V.S.; janitor Courthouse, G. W. Swope; engineer, Courthouse, A. J. Norton.

"Old fronsides," was launched September 20, 1797, and therefore lacks only two years of being a century old. She is the most famous ship in the history of the United States, and in her renown rivals the celebrated line-of-battle ship Victory, Lord Nelson's flag-ship at the battle of Trafalgar. She has been, indeed, what is called a lucky ship. She never lost a battle, she never fell into the hands of the enemy, and she never was disabled by a storm. Many narrow escapes she has had ha her long and prosperous career, and she has come triumphant out of all her adventures. Like the Constitution of the United States, after which she was named, she has withstood every danger that threatened, and is a fitting type of the ship of state.

Of course, during her seventy-five years of active service the Constitution often needed to be repaired. But although the material in her has been often replaced, she always continued the same ship, just as the human body is the same body of the same person, though its substance is constantly changing. In 1830 it was decided that the good frigate Constitution would hardly warrant the cost of repairs, especially when the nature of modern naval warfare was considered. She was therefore condemned, and was about to be broken up when Oliver Wendell Holme's famous ode appeared, beginning, "Ay, tear her tattered ensign down." The poet shamed Congress, and it was decided to repair once more the old warship. She took several cruises after that, and once carried a load of wheat to the starving poor of Ireland. On the voyage she went ashore, and being old, there was every reason why she should have left her bones on the coast; but, with her usual good luck, the Constitution got off without serious damage and returned to her native land.

But a day came at last when no further repairs would avail, and a gevernment which nava little for seriment, would ous damage and returned to her native land.

But a day came at last when no further repairs would avail, and a gevernment which pays little for sentiment, would spend nothing to keep up a ship which had contributed so much to the glory of our shy-builders, of our brave seamen, and of our starry flag. The Constitution, leaky and dismantled, was lying at the Brooklyn Navy-yard, awaiting her doom. Happily the government again relented in her favor. It was decided that she should not be broken up. As long as her old timbers would hold together she should be allowed to float, but not with her trim masts and spars, as if still a living monument of our naval pride. No; they would not break her up, but they would send her into an obscure exile. where few could see her and where she would soon be forgotten and gradually wear away. Sometimes I think it would have been nobler to take the old frigate out to sea, and piercing her sides with a volley of guns, let her sink duto the bosom of the element which had boggie her proud form to so many victories.

what grapefruit is. It resembles an enormous orange in form, and has a rich, lemon color. The peculiar acidity of the fruit—a sort of cross between an orange and a lemon acid—makes it particularly desirable as a breakfast fruit. For many years this fruit has been grown in Florida more as a curiosity than as an article of commerce. A few years ago an enterprising fruit man tried to sell the fruit in Northern markets. It soon became a favorite breakfast fruit with epicures. The grapefruit fad soon seized the people, and since then the supply has been inadequate to the demand. A Florida grower tells the Times correspondent that he had a tree in his dooryard which was 20 years old. It yielded twenty boxes annually, which sold, at wholesale for $15 per box, each box containing fifty-six of the fruit. Last year this fruit sold in the Eastern markets at wholesale for $11 per box. New York and Boston people say that the demand for grapefruit exceeds the supply. The grapefruit tree is cultivated like lemon and orange trees. It is larger than the lemon tree and more susceptible to frost than lemon or orange trees. A letter just received in this city from a Florida fruit-grower, whose business takes him all over that State, says that the recent freeze there has killed every grapefruit tree in Florida, and every lemon tree as well. Some of these frozen trees appear to have life in the lower portions of their trunks, but after a time it is noticed that the bark begins to peel off and the sap sours and the wood becomes absolutely dead. Under date of Honolulu, January 11, H.
M. Whitney, an old and prominent newspaper-man of Hawaii, writes to the New York Commercial-Advertiser:

"The prime object of this revoit has been the restoration of the ex-Queen, and every move has been done with her knowledge and instigation. Consequently something must be done with her. Every interest of this country demands that she either be executed, banished, or isolated in some way. Probably the latter will be done. Perhaps she will be sent to the Island of Kahoolawe, formerly a convict island of this group, and there kept under guard as long as she lives. It is not right nor just that she be allowed her freedom to scheme revoits such as we are now having here, and which no nation would permit. Her retirement as a political factor in Hawaii will secure peace and quiet, and these can never be had without it."

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

According to figures compiled by the Reliway Age, the gross earnings of American roads for 1894, as compared with those of 1893, decreased by $125,000,000. This smount as partly estimated. It is based on the complete reports of 150 roads which showed a decrease of $100,338,694. The exact earnings of these 150 roads were $773,282,282, compared with $873,820,976 for 1893. The largest decrease was on the entire Pennsylvania system, the amount being nearly $13,000,000. Other large decreases were over $6,000,000 on the Burlington, $5,000,000 by the St. Paul, $4,000,000 each by the Northwestern and Lake Shore, $3,000,000 by the Illinois Centual, Battimore and Ohio and Rock Island and $2,000,000 by the Canadian Pacific. A Boy is Run Over by a Railroad

A young boy named Edward McSwain was brought in on a Southern Pacific train from Burbank yesterday and was treated at the Receiving Hospital for se-rious injuries sustained there. He had over by a freight train and both been run over by a freight train and both logs had been cut off at the knees. The boy is the son of Lycurgus McSwain of Redondo. He was in the Alpine-street Orphan Asylum for some time. He said he had been out to San Fernando where he had been promised a job, but failing to get it, had, returned on a passenger train to Burbank. There he had been put off. When a freight was pulling out he grasped the bar to swing on to a brake-beam. In some way he missed, his hands slipped and he fell across the rail. The wheels did the rest.

Drs. Bryant and Ainsworth amputated the limbs, though doubts were expressed as to the lad's recovery.

The "Age of Consent"—An Evil that Cries Aloud.

All history goes to prove that wherever womanhood is degraded and reverence for her is weakened, society is by just so All history goes to prove that wherever womanhood is described and reverence for her is weakened, society is by just so much the locer. True reverence for womanhood is essential to the highest interests of society, for without this there is nothing to hinder the inroads of that vice which makes the name of the woman who is its victim a byword and reproach and which should be regarded equally damnable to the reputation of mem. Wherever such offenses against morality are winked at, society as a whole is degraded, and where immorality runs riot "manhood government follows manhood on its way to certain degradation."

It is woman, too, who makes the home a place of purity and blessedness, a place for the emoblement of character and the cultivation of those virtues which tend to the uplifting of society. Drag her down and you drag the home with her into the depths, and undermine the whole fabric of society; you endanger the institutions of the country in destroying the influences that tend toward the elevation of character and human ennoblement. The following facts from a recent article in the Arena possess a significance to which no words can add. Under the heading, "The Black List of States," are grouped the several States, and the age in each established by statute when American girls can be safely robbed of their virtue by and lecherous male who can establish, whether true or not, and if true, procured by whatever infamous means, the plea of "consent."

Ten years—Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina.

Twelve years — Kentucky, Louislana, Texas, Wisconsin.

Thirteen years—Iowa, New Hampshire, Utah.

Fourteen years—Rentucky, Louislana, Texas, Wisconsin.

Thirteen years—Rentucky, Louislana, Fifteen years—Delaware, Montane.

Sixteen years—Delaware, Montane.

Sixteen years—Arkansas, Colorado, District of Columbia, Massachusetts, Mississota, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Vermont, West Virginia.

Fifteen years—Delaware, Montana.

Sixteen years—Arkansas, Colorado, District of Columbia, Massachusetts, Missisalppi. New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvanta, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Washington.

Seventeen years—Florida.

California we find in the list of those States which places the age of "consent" at fourteen years, a law which is clearly in the interest of brothels and in league with immorality.

Dr. Emily Blackwell very pertinently writes: "To assume that a girl of fourteen or fifteen is not to be trusted in making a legal marriage, but that a girl of eleven or fifteen is not to be trusted in making a legal marriage, but that a girl of eleven or twelve is competent to understand and socept the consequences of an illegitimate connection, is a glaring absurdity, only to be accounted for by the different motives on which such action is based. No reason can be given for the low age of consent that would not tell equally upon every restriction on the freedom of minors. It is surely to the interest of the State that dis girls should grow up to be virtuous women. It cannot be its interest to facilitate the work of those who would compass destruction, in order to isonesse the temptations to vice, already too polwerful, which surround young men."

We are gird to note that there is a movement on foot among the noble and philanthropic men and women of this state looking to legislation on this subject, and which would place the age of consent at eighteen years.

Let California redeem herself and legislate for the moral defence of her sons and daughters, the purity of her homes and the general upiffting of morality in this State.

selling before any announcement was made. And today the sale will open, at Clark & Bryan's office, No. 127 West Third street. Plats have been provided and the lots scheduled as to prices, but not more than one-half the number will be sold at this time, it being the intention to advance the prices of the unsold ones 25 per cent. as soon as the first forty-two are disposed of. The prices, today and until the first ones are all taken, will average about $1000. Some are a little higher and some not so much. But it is age today and until the first ones are all taken, will average about $1000. Some are a little higher and some not so much. But it is safe to say that there isn't a lot among them all that anybody would have supposed a month ago could be bought for anything like $1000. The way property is held elsewhere, and considering the unusually choice location of this, they seem inconcelvably cheap, especially as they are such large lots.

There hasn't been any such offering of residence property in this city for years, and if the lots are not all snapped up at once it will be amazing. The lots fronting on Figueroa are worth $2000 apiece if they are worth a cent, and nobody doubts that the time is close at hand when they cannot be bought for $3000. People buying now can do so with an absolute certainty of their doubling in value within the next twelve months.

From latest developments it would appear that the "verdant" Mr. Hoyt, whose innocent sire and touching dejection since his apprehension in El Paso and return here by Capt. Henry Heep have deceived some of the most astute criminal hunters in the city, is an accomplished young sharper, out here "for his health," as related in the first antisle in The Times in which he figures.

A number of detectives hung to the view that his features show a criminal cast, and that the young man was merely shamming innocence, and it now appears they were right. Yesterday Chief Glass received a letter from Chicago that unmasks the young rascal completely, and explains his creasons for changing his mame, for not intending to go back to Chrospo, and for not receiving any assistance from there. An amicosed letter tells of misdeeds in San Francisco, where a warrant is out for his arrest.

Mr. Cranz is general manager for the Diamond Match Company, of which J. A.
Hull, alias C. G. Hoyt, was secretary.

The swindled young lady took care to inclose a sample of Hull's handwriting, and this Mr. Cranz recognized. As he had heard brom Hull, asking an acceptance of the $100 draft, he thought to warn this community of such a rake, so like a good citizen communicated with the Chief.

Hull, alias Hoyt, is about as slick a piece of brass as they care to encounter, say the detectives, and there is much rejoicing that the young knave has been apprehended thus early in his career.
The fellow will probably get a term in the penitentiary for his last exploit, but some are inclined to think an insane

these developments, it appears the fellow

Ask the men who are making imitations of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening, why they give up lard and try to trade on the merits of COTTOLENE? Perhaps you can guess why.

Ask the grocer who attempts substitution, why he tries to sell an imitation when people call for that pure, palatable and popular vegetable shortening, COTTO-LENE? Perhaps you can guess.

Why should not YOU use COT-TOLENE, instead of lard or any other compound, for all cooking purposes? It has the highest possible endorsement; from Phy-sicians as to healthfulness; from Cooking Experts as to superiority; from housekeepers as to economy. Use COTTOLENE and stick to it.

of the Men Probably Fatally Wounded, While the Other Two are Somewhat Used Up.

A three-cornered fracas among three Italians on a chicken ranch near Mother Brown's notorious house on the Mission road, came very near to giving Coroner Campbell a three-cornered job, but, owing to the exceedingly poor marksmanship of the exceedingly poor marksmanship of the starter of the row, that sensational finish was spoiled. As it is, Guiliams Digiovanna and Antonio Ponzio are in the County Jaii and Nicolo Ponzio is iying at the County Hospital, dying from two shots through the abdomen.

To go back to the beginning of the narrative, the three were townsmen in Italy and came here from New Orleans a year ago, January, 15. They rented some land of a Mexican on the Mission road, and lived together in a four-room house on the place. They raised chickens and incidentally made their own wine.

About a month ago they got into a fuss over their poultry, and the old man, Antonio Ponzio, took a shot at Digiovanna. The affair was reported to the District Attorney, but as they had amicably adjusted their affairs once more, nothing was done. But a smoldering desire for vengeance possessed old Antonio, and yesterday it blazed forth, or, more practicelly, his revolver blazed forth.

The men had all imbibed freely of their home-made liquor, and that was largely responsible for the trouble.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, while Digiovanna and Nicolo Ponzio were harrowing a barley field, the former grew very thirsty and went to the house for water. Old Antonio was stiting inside, cutting potatoes. He is partially paralyzed, and, though he can hear, cannot talk. By signs he asked what was wanted. "Water," said Digiovanna. Then, according to Digiovanna's story, the old man pulled out his thirty-eight-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver and fired four deliberate shots. These, the active young man with the unpronounceable name, says he dodged, and, closing in on Antonio, wrenched the revolver from his hand and knocked him down with it. The old fellow's face was cut.

Digiovanna rushed out, only to encounter Antonio's brother, who, attracted by the shooting, was rushing in with two big rocks in his hands. He, seeing Digiovanna with the revolver, let drive one of the missiles at the lafter. It missed, so he threw the other. This smashed Digiovanna over his left temple and knocked him dizzy and blind.

Then, Digiovanna said, he raised the revolver and fired the last two charges blindly toward his assailant. He heard the scream of pain and saw Nicolo plunging about grasping at the dirt, then he turned and fied. Both shots took effect in the abdomen.

Digiovanna ran, pursued by old Antonio.

turned and fied. Both shots took effect in the abdomen.

Digiovanna ran, pursued by old Antonio, who had meanwhile loaded up a shotgun and returned to the fray. But he was too fleet, and rushed over and surrendered himself to Tom Lyons, the salcon-keeper at Mother Brown's. Together they went to the Sheriff's office and the shocter was duly jailed. Sheriff Burg and Deputy of gather took Nicolo to the County Hospital, where he was left in a critical condition.

Digiovanna admits the shooting as reliated, and excuses it on the plea of self-defense.

Services at Peniel Hall.

There was a large audience in Peniel mission all day yesterday. In the morning Rev. E. S. Chapman, D.D., spoke from Ezsekiel xxvi, 25-27, and in his graphic way showed the four great blessings promised to man, viz: Personal cleansing from moral impurity, a new heart, a renewed spirit and God's indwelling spirit. The address was full of pointed illustrations, and was listened to with great interest.

tions, and was listened to with great interest.

In the afternoon Dr. J. A. Wood preached with much power on "Christian Perfection." And at night Dr. Phillips, the new dean of the University of Southern California, spoke to another large congregation with much force and enthusiasm from the text, "I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." There were seekers at the altar at the close of each service, and some very striking testimonles given by those who have been reeently saved.

FAIR ARCHITECTS.

Bichard Watson Gilder Throws His Influence in Their Favor. [From a Special Contributor.]

Architecture is a paying profession usurped by men, in which the world thinks the gentler sex would succeed. However, members of the feminine gender seem to think otherwise, for they are loth to adopt its chances.

Who could plan a commodious dwelling house better than a woman? Who should know the conveniences of pantry, stairway, closets ,etc., more thoroughly than the one whose knowledge has to keep the establishment in running order? Who, more efficiently than a housewifer, should plan the essentials of good housewifery? That in the present time a man does more competently comprehend these things is due to training more than inheritance or intuition.

That in the present time a man transfer competently comprehend these things is due to training more than inheritance or intuition.

The difficulty has been that until the last two years little inducement in the way of practical training has been offered for girls. The advantages for architectural perfection have all been given to the men. Even the opening of such a department at the School of Applied Design was a supply to create a demand, and the small class of five women who joined, were persuaded into it.

Men who had so long dominated the profession laughed at the feminine spurt, as they termed it. Their experience went to show that women designed beautiful buildings that were not in the least practicable. Therefore, when the class opened the architects who were elected as tutors, said that the girls would be given the benefit of practical work.

Now, the men are looking with some degree of admiration upon the work already accomplished by these very women. Miss Hands and Miss Gannon, who have an office in New York, are trying to bring themselves more quickly into prominence by solving the tenementhouse problem. Richard Watson Gilder, of the Century, has taken both young women with him on investigating tours through the shum districts. Miss Hands and Miss Gannon, have talked to tenement-house keepers and secured their views on necessary improvements. They have also taken counsel with the Collège Settlement women, who, after long battiling, are familiar with the grossest defects of the present tenement-house system. Through each garnished experience this feminine firm of grachitects hope to erect a tenement Extlo feet, where families can be healthfully housed.

When I saw them yesterday they were slated over their work. Their newly-

The cost of a course of study in architecture is small. Two seasons at $50 each complete the work, with six months in elementary drawing. Then it is wiser to go into an architect's office for a year of work to gain actual experience that the hospital gives for a student.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

RESPECTING TREATMENT OF ELBE PASSENGERS.

Officials of the Lloyd Steamship Company Produce Letters Showing that Charges Made are Unfounded.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Many conflicting reports regarding the treatment of passengers who were saved from the illitated steamer Elbe, both at the time of the rescue and after they were landed at Lowestoft, have been received on this side. Many of the statements accredited to the principals in the terrible scene, Hoffman, Vevera and Miss Boeker, have reflected discredit not only on the officers of the sunken craft, but also on the cempany. A cablegram printed in a morning paper stated that the passengers who were landed at Lowestoft were poorly provided for in the way of money and clothing, of which they were destitute, and after reaching London were quartered in a second-class hotel, and then shipped on the Umbria to America. They were transported at the lowest saloon rates, and what little funds were given them would barely pay their extras on the passage, and they would land in New York penniless, unless friends came to their assistances. Gustav Scwab, agent for the North German Lloyd Steamship Company in this city, was very much excited over these reports, and cabled to the home office for a detailed explanation. He received the following reply:

"The charges that have been made are reports, and caused to the received the following reply:

"The charges that have been made are unfounded according to our investigations. Nobody saw Hoffman's child in boat No. 3. When the port side boat No. 5, which contained Miss Boecker, besides other passengers, was filled by the waves in lowering, the order was heard that women and children should be taken to the boats on the starboard side, where they found protection against the strong wind, the starboard being the lee side. The assistant purser, the steward and third officer. Stollberg, drew Miss Boecker into boat No. 3. Miss Boecker writes to us as follows:

"Steward Kobe is one of the men who saved me. Order prevailed on deck. There were very few cries heard. I had hold of a piece of lumber and cried for help, when the lifeboat was in my neighborhood. I was observed and an oar was stretched out to me. My dress was so heavy from the water that the men did not succeed until after considerable time in drawing me into the boat. Capable seamen were in the boat. Capable not succeed until after considerable time in drawing me into the boat. Capable seamen were in the boat, who fought courageously against storm and wave. "Vevera's statement is incorrect. His niece was not a cabin passenger, but steerage passenger, and was in the for-ward steerage in the compartment for single women."

Keller, Wallis & Co., agents of the North German Lloyd in London, telegraphed:

"Three passengers received from us £3 each to pay their fares, London to Liver pool, and their little extras, all their expenses up to leaving London for Liver pool being defraped by us and clothing supplied them at Lowestoft. They were second class on the Elbe, but we for-warded them as first-class on the Um-bria. The United States Consul General tells us that passengers applied to him for advice as to accepting our offer of passage on the Umbria. He says they expressed no desire to make any official statement, nor made no complaints."

"SKELETON BRIDE."

Case that Would Interest the Surgical Profession.

esociated Press Leased-wire Service.
CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—In a cheerless room in the rear of the second-story of No. 157 Clark street, without food, money or fire, lies Emma Schaller, aged 27. Until three months ago she was for seven years a principal attraction of dime museums throughout the country. She was known as the "skeleton woman," the ossified woman" and the "skeleton bride." and ir the days of her greatest drawing power the days of her greatest drawing power as a dime museum freak, commanded a salary of $75 a week. Her mother Mrs. Lizzie Schaller, in applying to the police for assistance, stated that she and her daughter had been without food for twenty-four hours and had no money. Her daughter, because of the increasing ossification of her body, had become nearly helpless and could no longer earn money in museums. Every joint in her wody, with the exception of her hip joints, the arms up to the shoulders, has become rigid. She is able to move her jaw but a little, and it was found necessary a short time ago to pull her teeth that she may have less difficulty in taking food into her mouth.

CONTEMPTIBLE ACTS.

Young Men Attempt to Dynamite

HARTFORD CITY (Ind.,) Feb. 5.—An attempt to blow up the Baptist Church at Pleasantdale, a community in this county, which harbors a, tough element, spread terror among the worshipers. Rev. John Seelig, a United Brethren ister of this city, has been holding revival meetings in the church and he has from time to time so treely scored the young men. Mr. Seelig's last meeting was unusually riotous, and some of the bad young men of the neighborhood whom he rebuked left the church in anger. Yesterday the janitor found under the church three sticks of dynamite, the fuses of which were partly burned. There was enough of the explosive to have blown the building to pieces, and had the explosion taken place while the church was full of worshipers, many would have been killed. The matter will be investigated. ister of this city, has been holding re-

A JEALOUS FREAK.

Attempted Suicide of a Woman or the Public Street.

Yesterday's series of affairs of violence was topped off by the attempted suicide of a blonde of the demi-monde at a late hour last night. She got jealous of her lover and while standing against a telegraph pole near the northwest corner of Spring tents of a bottle of laudanum. She formerly lived here as Hattle Clark of Joe Howard's place, but has been in San Francisco some time, and returns as Hattle Carlisle. She came down-here yesterday with Charley Furnen, a gay young drummer for a whisky house, and they, with several local lights "broke a few bottles of wine at Solomon's" and else-with several local lights "broke a few bottles of wine at Solomon" and elsewhere to such an extent that any kind of behavior was at a discount.

But "Charley loved another" in the course of their carouse and she was unconsolable. She left them on the sidewalk on First street for a few minutes and after an unsuccessful attempt at one place, procured a large vial of laudanum at H. Germain's store at No. 27 South Spring street. With this she went back, meeting a member of the party en route across the tracks after her.

meeting a member of the party en route across the tracks after her.

She shook him off and near the post pulled the cork and tipped up the bottle, swallowing a very little of its contents. The rest of the half-bottle spilled over her bosom. She immediately fell (very dramatically) and the whole crowd and many others rushed to her assistance. They carried her to a near-by saloon and by the prompt use of the stomach-pump by Drs. The man gave the name of Thomas Cunningham, and told a very conflicting series of stories. First he was from Tucson, and then San Bernardino, and finally Santa Ana. On his person was an envelope bearing Danish stamps and postmarked from the village of Stubdrup, near Kolding, Denmark, and was addressed to Nickolsi Hansen, P. O. box 522, San Bernardino, He also had a few rolls of dimes and it was this noticeable quantity of dimes that gave him away. One of the rolls was inclosed in a Western Union notice addressed "Catholic priest." It was later learned he had robbed the priest's house at Santa Ana, niking all the Prier's pence, etc., in sight. Cunningham said the priest's name is Father Myers.

Sheriff Nichols came up for his man in response to a telegram, and will return with him this morning. The cash stolen, aggregates about $130.

The Trustees Grant Another Licenses Other Business. SANTA MONICA, Feb. 5.—(SI

Finance Committee covering bills amounting to $573.35 was received and the bills ordered paid.

Frank O. Jones petitioned for a retail liquor license to be operated at No. 230 Second street in the Bochme Block. Vanwer moved to grant the petition and Lewis seconded it. A discussion followed as to the bearing of this proposition on the resolution of the last meeting limiting the number of licenses to thirteen. Lewis opposed the spirit of the thirteen-asloon restriction, and Roth defended it. Vanwer claimed the insolvency of the Exchange salcon left only twelve licenses in force. Lewis moved to rescind the resolution limiting salcons to thirteen, which was loot by the tie vote of Lewis and Vanwer yes.—2; and Roth and Caruth nay—2. Vanwer then moved that the license be granted as asked for. The vote was: yes. Lewis and Vanwer—2; nay. Caruth—1; not voting, Roth—1. President Caruth declared the motion carried.

C. P. Divan esked, by communication, that his liquor license, No. 2, be transferred to C. F. A. Last. This led to a further discussion, Vanwer claiming that the license should have gone to the credition of the insolvent. Roth moved that the incense should have gone to the credition of the insolvent. One Hundred Pomologists and Their Friends on the Mountains.

ECHO MOUNTAIN, Feb. 4.—(Special Correspondence.) The visit of the American Pomological Society upon this mountain was the signal event of their stay in Southern California. Arrangements for the trip had been skillfully planned by the the local Committee of Entertainment, and their efforts were ably seconded by Charles D. Sage, organizer of the expedition.

D. Sage, organizer of the expedition.

After doing the Throop Institute and Pasadena in the morning they took the afternoon train for Echo Mountain, where they arrived at 3 p.m. The ride over the verdant foot-hills and along the winding shelf of Rubio Canyon was full of interest, and the ascent up the great cable incline was exciting and even thrilling.

Arriving at the top they were welcomed by Prof. Lowe and others, and then were marched around the hotel to the brink of the abyss called Echo Canyon, and listened with bated breath to the wonderful reverberations which roll back from the pearer and then the more remote moun-

Then a rush was made for the observatory a quarter of a mile away, and both astronomers were kept busy till upwarfs of one hundred sight-seers had gazed at the giant planet which was transformed by the powerful lens from a twinkling star to a full orbed moon, attended by three bright little disks, all in a row—the fourth being hid behind the great primary. And oh, the exclamations of wonder, surprise and delight that burst from the lips of one observer after another as each peered through the great glass! If it is a pleasure to give pleasure, then Dr. Swift's cup of happiness ought to be full and running over.

Disturbed the Peace.

Elmer Bazier and Elisa Margin, two persons charged with disturbing the peace in a house on New High street, were up before Justice Owens yesterday, and were granted until today at 11 a.m. to prepare for trial.

They got out on $15 bail each. Late the night before they were taken to the police station. From the statements of witnesses, Bazier, who is a two-crutch cripple, had been calling on the Margin woman, and as he left, instead of taking a tender adleu, he up with a cane like a weaver's beam and whacked her on the side of the head, nearly tearing off herear. Much blood flowed, and great excitement ensued; so much that the noise thereof disturbed even the peace that usually hovers about Sonoratown.

POOR PROSPECTS OF A SCHOOL BOND ELECTION.

Not Enough Signers to the Petition
Preparing for the Masonio Hall Dedication—Briefs and Personals.

PASADENA, Feb. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) At the regular meeting of the Board of School Trustees this afternoon, Trustees Boynton and Hartwell were present, Trustee Arnold absent.

The expected petition praying the board to call a special election to vote on the proposition to issue bonds for building a new schoolhouse, made its appearance. On the several copies of this petition presented there was a total of only 240 signatures. It was stated that there are yet three copies of the petition in circulation, bearing an unknown number of names, but not chough to make the grand total sufficient. As the petitioners were not a majority of the electors in this school district the members of the board did not feel warranted in taking any action. The only business transacted was of a routine pature.

COWS AND PUMPKINS.

On Wednesday, in the court of Justice of the Peace Rossiter, will occur another turn of a cause celebro, in which C. B. Ladd, the North Pasadena lawyer will turn of a cause celebre, in waters of the case, which is a sequel to some preceding ones, which is a sequel to some preceding ones, is one of replevin sued by Ladd against his neighbor. Turner, for the recovery of a cow, being, it is alleged, unlawfully held by said Turner. The facts seem to be that Ladd's cow strolled away from home and in her perengrinations found her way into the garden of Turner and did there and then eat a pumpkin, of the value of $3 as claimed by the owner of the pumpkin patch. Pumpkins grow large in California, but in the opinion of the owner of the cow, their size is dedicent as compared with this bill. Ladd offered 50 cents for the damage done the pumpkin and Turner's feelings, which tender was refused. Turner has kept the cow five weeks to enforce the payment of his claim, and though he has enjoyed the milk and butter, he demands 20 cents a day for the animal's board. The case will be of much interest, especially to citizens of North Pasadena, where Mr. Ladd's livestock has been the subject of much discussion hitherto.

TO DEDICATE MASONIC TEMPLE. Representatives of all the Masoni-dges in Pasadena held a meeting Mon lodges in Pasadena held a meeting anonday evening to perfect arrangements for families of each member. It is not yet determined what form the entertainment will take, but will be suitable for the occasion. A sub-committee consisting of will take, but will be suitable for the cocasion. A sub-committee consisting of Messrs. A. H. Conger, C. J. Willette and John R. Slater was appointed to prepare a programme. These gentlemen will work in conjunction with the main committee, which is made up of Dr. Frary, F. L. Jones, S. Washburn, R. Williams, J. B. Hughes and Theodore Coleman.

A PRETTY COTILLON. At the Hotel Green Monday evening the second of the series of cotillons given by the young men of Passadena was so much of a success that it is said to have been the prettiest affair of its kind ever given here. Mrs. Locke and Miss Greenleaf designed the unique favors. Mr. Shoemaker and Miss Greenleaf were the leaders. The figures were all beautiful adaptations of Spanish dances, and were artistically performed to the music of the hotel orchestra. The favor tables were presided over by Mrs. A. H. PASADENA BREVITIES.

Quite a curious coincidence occurred in The Times of Monday. In the sporting column of that issue appeared a report of a wildcat hunt of some Los Angeles athietes at Devil's Gete. The "trampers" started up two wildcats, one of which they captured, and the other got away, qursued by dogs. In the Pasadena department of the same paper it was mentioned that a wildcat, pursued by dogs, had been killed near Devil's Gate by two Pasadena men who were driving thereabouts. From the evidence at hand, it is apparent that the pair of cats met a like fate.

The Era of Investigation.

(Syracuse Post.) It is a hopeful sign when efforts are being made in different States to investigate the corruption in municipal affairs. The great problem of the day is the government of cities. People often take far more interest in the remote acts of Congress than they do in the proceedings of the common council, and yet the fatter are of the utmost concern to every citizen of the municipality. Probably a dozen or more cities will be investigated this winter by legislative committees, and purer government and better moreals may be expected as the result of the reform wave which swept over the country in 1894.

Hundreds of People Go Out to Look at it Yesterday.

The sale of lots in the new Figueroa-street tract started off most auspiciously yesterday. The day was a delightful one for getting out, and the property and its surroundings could not have looked more charming. The visitors strolled about or gathered in groups, admiring the situation, the improvements, the size of the lots, the beautiful view from them, the case with which they were reached from the city, and seemed reluctant to tear themselves away. All day it was like a holiday scene, and if only a tithe of those buy who went to see and expressed themselves so freely as to the desirability of lots in the new district, there will not by Saturday night be one left. If Messrs, Clark & Bryan, who have been making a speciality, with great success, of fixing up and putting into the market those unusually attractive properties, right in the heart of the most fashionable districts, could have heard the lavish praise poured out yesterday of their enterprise, good taste and liberality, they would certainly have been extremely gratified. The consensus of opinion was that in their Figueroa tract they have broken their best record.

ORANGE COUNTY.

MEETING OF THE SANTA ANA TRUSTEES.

The Paving Matter Further Considered, and Committees Appointed, but no Definite Action Taken.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) The regular meeting of the Gity Trustees was held last evening, with all the members present except Edinger, who is still confined to his bed.

A petition from P. Magoon et al., asking the board to order down a good gravel eidewalk along the west side of Ross street from Fourth street north to Washington avenue was read and granted.

A petition was presented from John Me-Fadden et al., asking that a more uniform grade be established on Fourth street from French to Sycamore street, and on motion was granted, and a resolution passed declaring the intention of the board to change the grade on said street. The quarterly reports of the Clerk, Treksuer, Recorder, Poundmaster, Street Superintendent and City and County Tax collectors were read and accepted.

A petition was read from S. Hill et al motifying the board that the property owners on Fourth street, between Spurgeon and Bush streets, had selected porphyry rock for macakmising that block, and was received and filed. A similar report was also received from George Edgar and other property owners on the block between Bush and Main streets, and was duly filed.

A motion was made that the president be empowered.

also received from George Edgar and other property owners on the block between Bush and Main streets, and was duly filed.

A motion was made that the president be empowared to appoint a committee of one, and the citizens be requested to appoint one from each of the four blocks under consideration for paving, to confer with the said appointee to prepare plans and specifications for said paving. The motion carried, and W. B. Hervey was appointed.

The maitter of opening Sycamore street was brought before the board by W. S. Taylor, abtorney for the commissioners, and after some discussion a motion was made that when the board adjourned it would do so to meet Wednesday evening. February 6, at 6:30, to further consider the question.

A communication was read from W. S. Bantleitt, objecting to raising his cement walk on Fourth street, corner of Bush, as he had constructed said walk according to the official grade of 1838, and dealed the power of the board to compel him to raise the walk to the present established grade. The board decided that the objections were insufficient, and that the city order said work done according to resolution.

city order said work done according to resolution.

The petition of John L. Taylor, asking the board that he be "authorized to organize and maintain an organization known as the Merchants' Patrol, for better protection to business houses in the city" was read and referred to the Police Committee.

The City Attorney was instructed to draw up a proper resolution requiring the cement walk on West Fourth street to be constructed one foot from the property line.

THE INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE. THE INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE.
Pursuant to the request of the Cty
Trustees, a number of Fourth-street property-owners convened at the City Hall this afternoon to select a committee to act in conjunction with Mr. Hervey in making further investigation in regard to paving, to visit Los Angeles, Pasadena, San, Berardino, and other cities, and inspect their pavements, and secure all possible information to assist in preparing proper specifications for the work.
W. H. Spurgeon was chosen president of the meeting, and George A. Edgar secretary.

w. H. Spergeon was causen pressuent of the meeting, and George A. Edgar secretary.

It was decided that the chair should appoint two men from each block from Spurgeon to Ross streets, one from each side of the street, and that all parties interested be invited to accompany the committee and confer with it, but that no contractors or parties engaged in the paving business be allowed to mingle with them on the trip. It was stated that the recut trip of investigation to San Bernardino virtually amounted to nothing as far as gaining any practical knowledge was concerned, as the contractors who had the excursion in charge were very careful to show the best points in their line of work, dodging any that might not be favorable, and presenting weak points in other styles whenever possible.

The following committee was appointed: Spurgeon to Bush—C. E. French and H. Neill.

Bush to Main—John McFadden and

The committee, and all who desire to accompany it, will leave Thursday morning for Los Angeles, and it is anticipated that the investigation will require at least two day. A committee was also appointed to wait upon the City Trustees, and request that body to defer action until next Monday evening, when the committee of investigation will be prepared to make a full and comprehensive report.

The sentiment of the meeting was heartily in favor of paving, the only question remaining to be determined being that of what material is to be used in the work.

THE MACCABEE SPREAD.

It was promised in yesterday's correspondence that today the mystic terms "Reds" and "Blues" as used in the Maccabee lodge of this city would be explained. About two months ago the lodge selected two captains, George 8. Smith and W. A. Dyer, each to choose an equal number of men from the membership of the order, and engage in a contest of securing recruits. The side which had reported the teast number of new applicants on December 31 that would pay a penalty by furnishing a royal supper to its victorious opponents. Mr. Smith's brigade was designated the bloody cognomen of the "Reds." The contest was a hot one, but the "Blues" were victorious, securing fifty-five new names to the "Reds" thirty-eight. Upon the red men, therefore, fell the task of banqueting their opponents, which they sid last night at 1.0.0.F. Hall in a "royal manner. C. F. Durfee was older butler, ably assisted by M. C. Cooper and A. E. Hawley. The spread was laid in the banquet hall, which seated ninety-eight at one round, and the menu embraced cold roast turkey and cranberry sauce, cold ham, hot tamales, prickes of various kinds, coffee, bread, pies, bananas and other articles. The feast was a grand success in all its details, and the "Blues" felt that their opponents, while perhaps less adept in skirmishing up recruits, were certainly unexcelled as caterers.

THE CENTURY CLUB.

The second meeting of the Century Club was held at K.P. Hall last evening, about forty members being present. "Succession of Games" was the order for entertainment, and proved abundantly successful. At 11 o'clock 'refreshments were served, after which a short business session was held, at which it was decided to hereafter hold the meetings fortnightly instead of weekly, and a number of new members were admitted. The winners of the prises were:

Mrs. L. Mayne was unfortunate enough this forenon to suatain a fall at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, which resulted in a broken arm, just above the wrist. The fall was caused by an accidental collision between the lady and L. H. Laughlin, who, in stepping quickly back from the edge of the curb, ran against Mrs. Mayne with such force as to throw her to the hard cement walk. Mr, Laughlin, of course, greatly regrets the affair, although the lady fully exonorates him from all blame in the matter.

THE SALOONS LICENSED. Riverside county is no longer a prohibition county. Under the provisions of the Riverside county is no longer a promote ton county. Under the provisions of the license ordinance recently passed by the Supervisors, which has done away with the prohibition ordinance of the last two years. Five licenses were granted by the Supervisors today. The temperance element of the several towns strongly protested against the issuance of licenses, but the board fully decided to experiment with a license to control the liquor traffic which has been carried on in violation of the law for two years past. At the last election the people decided in favor of high license by a small majority, but the present rate, $35 per month, is not satisfactory either to the license advocates or the prohibitionists. The result of such a low rate is awaited with anxiety by the large majority of people, who fear that saloons will become too numerous.

A CASE OF SUICIDE. The Coroner returned today from Palm Springs, bringing the body of the man killed by a train at that place Monday. The inquest on the remains developed the fact that the deceased's name was W. G. Greer, and he was a railroad man. Papers found on the remains showed him to be a member of the Railroad Trainmen's Brotherhood. He also had a life insurance card made in favor of Mary Schauck, Temple, Tex. The evidence at the inquest inclined to the theory that it was a case of suicide.

Financial Difficulties of the Semi Tropic Land and Water Com-pany—An Eastern Syndicate Interested.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 5. — (Special Correspondence.) The Public Library closed vesterday and the books were moved rapidly to the Brum residence on Fourth street, which has been lessed for five years. The new location, while not on one of the principal streets, is central. It is between E and D streets and only a block from the Courthouse and postoffice. The building is surrounded by beautiful grounds, and on two sides, the north and east, are wide verandas. The library will occupy the lower floor. Besides the library-room there are two reading-rooms, one for ladies and the other for gentlemen, opening off the library proper. While not as large as the home of such institutions in other cities it will be quite as attractive. C. C. Haskell, for many years a member of the library board, has tendered his resignation. The other members of the board regret his action. It is probable that Judge F. W. Gregg will be named as his successor.

SEMI-TROPIC'S TROUBLES.

The financial misfortunes that have befallen the Semi-tropic Land and Water Company have cast a blight upon the prosperity of Rialto. A Chicago syndicate now proposes to purchase the property of the company, provided they can purchase from the settlers such water stock as is held by them. This was a subject under consultation by a meeting of settlers Monday night. Many object to parting with their water rights and simply becoming lessess. And besides, their experience with corporations has been far from satisfactory. The offers of the company are very luring. Attorney Wilson told the meeting that it was the purpose of the syndicate, if it made the deal, to employ $1,000,000 in developing more water and establishing a canaigre factory. He suggested to the meeting that in case the syndicate's proposition was not satisfactory the settlers should formulate one. Acting on this a committee was appointed, consisting of J. W. McCracken, L. A. Bemis, George N. Turner, J. H. Smith, James Moffat and Judge A. L. Wright. The committee will report tomorrow (Wednesday) night. Many of the settlers are anxious to deal with the syndicate, but they want no more jughandle contracts.

REDLANDS. REDLANDS, Feb. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) The Fubile Library of this city will not be a year old until March 1, but the librarian's report for the month of January indicates that its work will compare favorably with similar institutions longer established, and in cities much larger than this. SAN DIEGO COUNTY. Another Water Proposition-General News Notes.

News Notes.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) The Consolidated Water Companies offered the City Council something to think over last night in a fetter, in part as follows: "Nothwithstanding the fact that the titles to our water rights, reservoirs, rights-of-way, and our financial strength have not been questioned, your Water Committee has seen fit to reject all of our propositions upon the cial strength have not been questioned, your Water Committee has seen fit to reject all of our propositions upon the ground that we cannot supply the water we agree to sell, yet no investigation has been made nor consultation had with us regarding the supply. The statement that we are unable to furnish the matter of the supply. ground that we cannot supply the water we agree to sell, yet no investigation has been made nor consultation had with us regarding the supply. The statement that we are unable to furnish the quantity of water we offer is untrue and unjust to us." This is a startling charge made by a reputable and respectable water company that the representatives of the Common Council are liars. It places the Common Council are liars. It places the Common Council sefore the community in the light of faisifiers if this statement by the water companies is true. If it is untrue, then, in justice to itself, the Common Council should compel a speedy retraction of the charge. As it assuads, the integrity of the Water Committee is openly, publicly questioned by a responsible business concern which represents millions of dollars of capital. This charge is too serious to be passed over lightly. It impugms the integrity of the Water Committee in the eyes of the people in a manner which causes suspicion. The water companies say further: "It is our wish to deal fairly and honestly with the people of San Diego, and in order that the city may take no chances of paying for a supply of water and then not get it, we will agree to sell to the city the city distributing system at the value placed upon it by the cours, and additions since added thereto, with from 100 to 1000 inches of water from the flume at a rental to be agreed upon," etc., and in case of failure the city is to cancel the contract. If the Water Committee has failed to investigate the property of the Consolidated Water Companies, what are the people to think? Are they to think that Babook or the Mt. Tecarte plan is the only plan worthy of consideration?

BIRTHDAY RECEPTION.

One of the most charming receptions of One of the most charming receptions of the season was given last evening by the Rev. D. F. Mackenzie, North Chicago street, in honor of the twenty-first birthday of Thomas Preston. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers. Music was furnished by Angelotti's Orchestra, and during the evening some of the guests gave a few musical selections, Mrs. Preston, Miss M. T. Wood and Mr. Aufedson being among the number. A liberal collation was served, and at a late hour the guests dispersed.

Charges Against the Cattle-rustler. Rudolph Nikolas, the butcher who was arrested by Detectives Auble and Hawley for the crime of grand larceny, seems on the hard road to a term in the "pen." In the hard road to a term in the "pen." In addition to the numerous complaints made of his cow-stealing throughout the city, is that of E. D. Hughes of No. 419 West Twenty-first street. He missed a cow some days ago, and, with the advice of Detective Auble, visited Nikolas's slaughteryard. There he found a rope and horns that he identified positively by certain peculiarities, as having belonged to him. These are held in evidence.

It is plain that this cattle "rustler" will probably receive severe punishment.

A Man Bun Over Near La Grande

Depot.

Coroner Campbell was called to La Grande Depot last evening just before 8 o'clock by the report that a man had been run over there and killed.

It was found that a strange young man, probably 21 years of age, and of Mexican blood, had stolen a sack of coal, and, in making off toward First street, was walking along a side switch near the fence. A making off toward First street, was walking along a side switch near the fence. A train of freight cars was being backed along toward him and the forward brakeman yelled to him to look out. In trying to get out of the way he fell under the weight of the coal, and a wheel caught him on the shoulders. He was swung around and horribly mangled, being twisted and torn. His head was cut off completely, and a wheel passed over it, crushing the skull into splinters of bone, the brains being scattered about. The body was dragged about fity feet.

The man wore very plain clothing. In his pockets were found a knife, a quarter and a can-opener. There was no identification whatever, though from all appearances the fellow lived in the immediate vicinity.

THE NEW FIGUEROA ANNEX.

As a choice residence district, the new Fig-As a choice residence district, the new Figueroa-street tract offers inducements that are hardly equalled by any locality in or about the city. It borders the world-famous Figueroa street, with its princely residences and unrivalled surroundings. It is on soil that is dry and sweet when every place else is muddy and which is unequalled in the whole world for flowers. It is laid out and "improved" in accordance with a well-considered general plan, and in the most thorough, broad-gauge manner. Its streets are all sewered, its sidewalks comented and curred and there will manner. Its streets are all sewered, its side-walks cemented and curbed, and there will be absolutely nothing for the buyer of lots to spend money for after he gets them but the building of his house and the setting out of shrubbery. Most important of all, every sale of lots is so guarded in the deed that poor houses on the tract will be an impossibility. This settles it beyond peradventure that Fig-ueroa and the whole beautiful district will continue, as it is now and long has been, the garden-spot and show-place of beautiful Los Angeles.

Great clearing-out of all Winter Jackets and Suits at less than cost of production.

The law of supply and demand regulates the price of all merchandise. This is just as true of cloaks and suits as it is of wheat, corn or stocks and bonds. Too many jackets at the wrong end of the year. There is only one way to save ourselves, and that is to make prices that will create a demand. Here are some of the prices we have made:

At $3-Ladies' Waists.

Very handsome, fancily made, tight fitting waists: material used is a plain, all-wool cloth in quite a va-riety of winsome colorings; such waists at anything less than 85 are very much indeed out of the usual. At $3.50 and $5-Ladies'

These goods are in size 40 and upward only; that accounts for the very extreme lowness or the price; there are perhaps a dozen styles of genuine tailor-made coats in this lot, which would ordinarily sell from $7.00 to $12.

At $10-Ladies' Coats.

A very large line of really beautiful garments, made and pressed by men tallors: the shapes and trimmings are the very latest as handed down by Paris and Berlin. There is not a garment in the lot that would not bring $10 more than we ask in the month of December.

At $5-Ladies' Suits. Good dependable cloths in all-wool and union qualities: full tailor made and lined throughout; from $10 a week ago to $5 now should in-

At $10-Ladies' Suits.

The self-same goods that a week ago was shown you at $18 and $20; the style, the making, the material the suits themselves are just as good as you could possibly hope to see.

Special sale today of small sizes and narrow widths in Ladies' Shoes. No such shoe values ever came your way before.

This store is the gateway of economy. No woman who has lived in this town a twelve-month will dispute that fact. If there is one department more than another that has won for us this reputation that department is shoes. The shoe values today are in keeping with the history of the shoe trading of this house during the months just past. What more can be said?

At $1-Ladies' Shoes.

Sizes 2.3% and 3 only; widths A, AA and B only; genuine French kid, hand sewed, in buttons They are actually $3 and $7, goods. If you have got a narrow foot or a small foot this is the golden chance.

At $1.50—Youths' Shoes.

Genuine calf in both button and lace: a solid, substantial, stardy school shoe, for healthy, full-blood-ed boys; probably worth 50c more.

At $1.75-Misses Shoes.

Splendid quality cloth top, button shoe, patent tips: yesterday at & the pair, today at $1.75.

Genuine French calf lace shoes, the very latest style razor toe, made to ell and ought tosell at 8; we hand them to you without any profit to the maker and very little to us at 8i.

At $4-Men's Shoes.

Black Wool Materials and Black Silks. Special offerings today that are interesting.

The special lots in black silks and dress goods today are worthy of more than a passing notice. The quantities are not large, considering the littleness of price and the altogether splendid qualities which are shown. They are surely worth your

At 75c-Black Novelties.

Very handsome imported French suitings, 40 inches broad, with dainty little seeded designs; ex-tremely neat and dressy, worth perhaps a quarter more. At 65c-Black Cheviots. Full by inches broad, English cheviot serges, all pure wool and excellent weight; Si a week ago would have been considered in the bounds of reason for such a sort.

At 50c-Black Novelties. 40 inches broad, extremely neat, pretty designs, while the quality difference between this and the regular 81 goods would be hard to explain.

At 75c-Black Silks.

A special lot measuring precisely 22 inches broad, excellent weight and a soft beautiful finish that assures wear; a dollar the yard would have been considered a bargain price for this quality last week.

At SI-Black Silks.

Plain and figured 24-inch gros-grain silks: the qualities of the various pieces of this offering are more than good—they are the best. The designs in the figured goods are as handsome as anything shown this season. If we had asked it you would have thought $1.50 the yard reasonable indeed for such quali-ties as this.
